

Configuration File Editor User Guide

Config Edit

THIS WIKI HAS BEEN UPDATED FOR VERSION 13 OF YOUR PBX GUI

- Introduction
- Logging In
- Creating or Editing a File

Introduction

Configuration File Editor gives you the ability to edit custom FreePBX files in the browser that you would normally have to edit through the CLI.

Logging In

- Log into the PBX GUI.
- In the top menu go to Admin
- In the drop-down menu go to Config Edit

Configuration File Editor

What is Configuration File Editor

Configuration file editor gives you the ability to edit custom FreePBX files in the browser that you would normally have to edit through the CLI.

+ Add New File

Click a file on the left to edit

Creating or Editing a File

Click on a file name in the list, or click the Add New File button to create a new file.

Some files are not writeable, and therefore cannot be edited. A warning will display above the text field for these types of files.

File is not writable

Edit the file in the text field.

Click the Save button to save your changes.

Click the Apply Config button to apply the changes.